

Fig. 11. Flabellum alabastrum. Soft parts seen in a vertical section of one lateral half of the coral.

M. Mouth leading to the stomach. 1, 2, 3 Mesenteries of those orders, with their attached filaments, muscles, and ova. The positions of the margins of the septa of those orders are represented by fine curved dark lines. The wall of the corallum is seen in section in situ.

Fig. 12. Arrangement of the tentacles with regard to the septa in Flabellum japonicum.

1, 2, 3, 4 Primary, secondary, tertiary, and quaternary septa, at the inner margins of which are seen the corresponding peculiarly-shaped tentacles.